

Autism: The Problem is Understanding

Poems, pictures, stories and photographs by people with autism or Asperger syndrome, parents and carers, families and friends and professionals working with people with autistic spectrum disorders. "A few minutes reading some of these extraordinary and revealing anecdotes and poems will explain more about this complex disorder than hours of textbooks." Jane Asher, President of The National Autistic Society

Autistic Thinking – This is the Title

People with autism think in a linear and rigid but very focused way. Peter offers an insight into the thinking processes of people with autism filled with rich and often humorous examples, making it a fascinating and entertaining read.

Beyond The Silence

"An extraordinary opportunity to explore the hidden world of autism." Chris Terrill, Senior Producer, BBC

Tito is an 11 year old boy from south India with a special talent. Although almost completely non-verbal, he can communicate his thoughts and feelings through remarkable prose and poetry, written in fluent English. Tito also has autism. Through his writing he explains how he deals with this hidden disability and how it affects his view of the world. Tito gives us a unique insight into the mind of someone with autism, as well as a fascinating account of growing up with a disability in modern India.
